Baking Instructions:

Pizza/Calzone

1. Make sure oven rack is in center of oven.
2. Preheat oven to 450° for pizzas & 400° for calzones and quesadillas.
3. Cook only one pizza or calzone at a time.
4. Remove plastic wrap.
5. Slide baking paper and pizza or calzone onto the middle of the oven rack. Do not place cardboard in oven!
6. Check after 6-7 minutes. Average baking time is 8-10 minutes (10-15 min. for calzone).
7. If any bubbles appear, poke them.
8. Pizza is ready when the edges are golden brown. Pizzas bake evenly when directions are followed correctly, so if the edges are done, the middle should be too.
9. Carefully take pizza out by sliding the cardboard underneath it and holding it level.

Mexican

~For Enchiladas, Nachos & Tamales~

1. Adjust oven rack to middle of the oven.
  2. Preheat oven to 425 degrees.
  3. Remove plastic wrap and replace with foil.
  4. Place pan in middle of oven.
  5. Average baking time is 20 to 25 minutes.
  6. Burritos, nachos and tamales are ready when they are heated all the way through and cheese is completely melted.
- ** Note: Nachos must be baked as soon as possible to avoid chips becoming soft.

Helpful Hints

1. Pizza can be refrigerated for 24 hours. (But we recommend baking immediately).
2. We recommend if you to freeze the pizza that you cook it first.
3. Cooked frozen pizza must be thawed completely before being reheated.
4. Baking paper will turn brown, but it won't catch fire.
5. Pizzas with extra toppings will take longer to bake.
